Big Problems For New Cabinet

DONORA DOMESTIC COAL CONSUMERS ARE ASSURED SUPPLY

Equitable Mine Will Furnish Coal Supply

The coal shortage in Monessen is receiving the attention of many citizens who have made futile attempts to secure a supply of coal for the winter season. Fortunately the weather has not been severe and the lack of fuel has not materially been felt but should a cold wave suddenly strike this section there will be much suffering as many coal bins are entirely empty and nothing but promises received from dealers with whom orders have been left. The dealers claim that they are unable to get coal for domestic purposes although there is plenty of coal being mined for the mills, yet this grade would make poor fuel and would not be acceptable by the private consumer.

At Donora the Community Service has solved the domestic fuel problem by going into the market and arranging for a supply for the city. The borough clerk is taking all orders and making deliveries at the rates of $6.50 per ton delivered. The coal is being secured at the Equitable mine of the Pittsburgh Coal company and Mr. Anderson, the general manager, has assured the Donora people that 25 pit cars, averaging about 60 tons would be allotted to the trade each day.

Continue Raids

By RUSSEL BROWNING
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Cork Nov. 5—Tension in Cork increased today with reports of widespread raids by military forces. On all sides it appeared to be taken for granted that further tragedies are bound to occur and Irish and British steeled themselves to meet them.

The excitement surrounding Terence MacSwiney's funeral had not died today. Followers of the late Lord Mayor still were vengeful and they were not quieted any by renewed raiding. The election last night of Donald O'Callaghan as Lord Mayor of Cork showed feeling here had not died down. O'Callaghan was associated closely with MacSwiney. He attended the funeral services in London and took part in the fighting at Holyhead in an effort to prevent seizure of the body by British soldiers.

Cork bustles with ordinary business affairs during the day. The river Lee is crowded with small craft and the quays are lined with workers. The factories are busy. But at all times there is a tension showing itself in the quick gathering of crowds at the smallest provocation.

At night the streets are deserted. The curfew law is in effect. Pedestrians may go about if they have passes but even then it is dangerous as sentries and other armed men are quick to shoot.

Adding to the tenseness of the situation is the impending death of the remaining nine hunger-strikers in Cork jail. Their death is accepted as certain to occur, especially since they only recently rejected an honorable opportunity to break their fasts.

In the space in front of the jail hundreds of women gather daily to pray for the prisoners whose bodies are wasting away but whose courage remains unshaken. The women remain all day, kneeling and counting their beads. At all times there is a watch at the prison gate for the bulletin, which will announce the death of one more fasting prisoner.

With the exception of John Hennessey all nine hunger-strikers were conscious when I visited the jail. Hennessey is believed to have sunk into a coma from which he will not emerge. This was the eighty-seventh day of the strike.

Jail doctors told me the men have no medical care but that expert nursing is provided by nuns. Each has a narrow cell in which he lies. The doors open into a common corridor. Through this corridor the nuns, in constant attendance, flit from one cell to the other, tucking warm blankets about the wasted forms, adding hot water bottles to those already in the cot and bathing foreheads with cooling solutions.

Relatives still are admitted to the prison and the men are able to whisper to them and to the priest who offers them consolation.

The physicians denied they had tempted the men to eat by placing fragrant dishes in the cells. The men had been accepted at their word and no effort had been made to make it more difficult for them, physicians said.

Bullet Wound Fatal

Miss Violet Nicely, aged 21, of Ligonier died in the Latrobe Hospital today from a bullet wound in the left side said by police, to have been self-inflicted, last September 22. The young woman is said to have been despondent over the death of her mother, Mrs. Ezra Nicely.

Drys Have Majority

Philadelphia, Nov. 3.—The Pennsylvania Anti-Saloon League is jubilant over the outcome of the recent elections in the state. Dr. Homer W. Tope, the state superintendent, claims the election of twenty-two friendly members to congress, giving the drys a majority of eight in the state delegation. The present delegation on test votes has usually split 50-50.

The victory of Milton J. Shreve in the Erie-Crawford district is particularly gratifying. Mr. Shreve is a Republican and will continue to vote as such on party measures. He was nominated and elected, however, on the Prohibition ticket, having been defeated for the Republican nomination last spring because of his support of the prohibition cause.

Dr. Tope also claims the election of a Legislature which bids fair to give the state an adequate Law Enforcement Code. The necessity for state legislation becomes daily more apparent. There is very grave necessity that the local law enforcement machinery be put in motion to carry out the will of the people as expressed in the adoption of the 18th Amendment.

Infant Son Dead

Anthony Coy Miller, the eleven month old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Miller, of 608 McMahan avenue, died last night at 8 o'clock after a brief illness due to spinal trouble. Yesterday morning the anxious parents were told by the attending physician that there was a slim chance to save the child as the disease had taken such a firm hold but the little patient lingered until the above hour, when the death messenger came.

The deceased was an only child. The funeral will take place Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. Services will be held at the home. The sermon will be preached by the pastor of the A. M. E. church and interment will be made in the Grandview cemetery immediately following. Mr. and Mrs. Miller have the sympathy of a large circle of friends in their great loss.

Wholesale Raids

Dublin, Nov. 5.—Wholesale military raids throughout southern Ireland yesterday were reported at the Irish Office today.

The raids were accompanied without bloodshed. Bales of documents were seized and a few arrests made.

Three soldiers were killed in an ambush in County Longford, according to official reports. Six more were wounded. The men were ambushed as they left Granard where extensive reprisals had been carried out. One of the attacking party was killed.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Reabe of 604 McKee avenue entertained about 30 young people last evening in honor of their son, John. The event was a birthday surprise, this being John's fifteenth anniversary. The evening was delightfully spent in dancing and games and at a late hour Mrs. Reabe served a sumptuous lunch after which the guests presented him with many useful gifts wishing him many returns of the day.

BRINGING TECHNICAL AND PRACTICAL STATE OF PEACE AND PAYING COST OF WAR

Washington, Nov. 5—One hundred major problems will confront the cabinet to be appointed by President-elect Harding, the number of minor problems being legion. Altho President-elect Harding has so far given no indications as to who will be asked to form the cabinet, political observers have made up a partial slate of secretaries as follows:

State—Elihu Root.
Treasurer—Gov. Frank O. Lowden
Justice—Ex-Sen. Geo. Sutherland
Navy—Ex-Senator John Weeks.
Agriculture—Henry C. Wallace.
Post Office—Henry M. Daugherty or Will H. Hays.
Labor—John Nolan.

Herbert Hoover, General John Pershing and Major General Leonard Woods are also spoken of as possibilities.

Bringing a technical as well as the practical state of peace and paying the cost of the war will be the biggest problems to face the new cabinet. In addition to writing the peace terms to Germany and Austria, Root if appointed, Secretary of State must frame a Russian and probably a Mexican policy and propose to other powers President-elect Harding's plan for "an association of nations."

Governor Lowden will have to get the United States started on the task of paying off the rest of the cost of the war, about four billion dollars. Tax receipts of the Federal government this year are expected to fall about one billion dollars or approximately 20 per cent. under the amount collected during the year just closed but cash must be found to pay off about $4,500,000,000 worth of Victory notes in May, 1923.

Between now and then the total amount of government obligations of all kinds maturing will total nearly $7,500,000,000. This means that the government annual tax bill must continue to be at least four million dollars a year. Most of this now comes from the excess tax law which business men are asking for repeal.

Nation Wonders What Action Will Be Taken on League of Nations

By L. C. MARTIN

(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, Nov. 5—The "solemn referendum" on the League of Nations having gone against President Wilson, his friends as well as critics are asking:

"What will President Wilson do now about the peace treaty?"

The answer is known only to the President. If he intends to do anything he has not confided in his official family. Many guesses have been made, among them, these:

1—That Wilson will do nothing more about the treaty or the league, leaving to Harding the task of making peace with Germany and deciding on what terms the United States shall co-operate with other nations to prevent war.

2—That he will accept the people's verdict, rendered at Tuesday's solemn referendum and will resubmit the league covenant to the Senate in December, with a statement that he will accept ratification with such reservations as the senate adopts.

3—That he will resign very shortly and step out of the treaty fight for good as suggested by W. J. Bryan.

4—That he will make a separate peace with Germany before March 4, 1921.

5—That he will shortly address a statement to the American people, in which he will say his last word, officially, on the treaty.

All of these are mere guesses, unsupported by a single authoritative intimation from the President or persons close to him. Those who have observed him during his two terms have learned to "expect the unexpected" from him and would not be surprised if the President had a surprise up his sleeve with regard to the pact.

White House officials [illegible] refused to [illegible] W. J. Bryan's urgent suggestion that Wilson resign to let Harding [illegible]. The report that Wilson planned to step out soon after election has been going the rounds here for some time and has even gone unchallenged in certain official quarters, but it is impossible to learn whether Wilson does intend to quit or not. His closest associates scout the idea, however.

The suggestion that he might yield to the Senate on reservations was scoffed at today by those nearest to him. But that would be surrender. An official who sees the President almost daily said, adding that Woodrow Wilson may be defeated, but he never surrenders. The president, it was said, would rather have the United States stay out of the league than have the league rendered impotent through elimination of the obligation in Article X. Acceptance of the senate reservations would do that, in the president's opinion.

Government Control Ends

Washington, Nov. 4. The last vestige of government control over sugar has been removed through suspension by President Wilson of a proclamation providing for [illegible] November 15 of [illegible] held by all wholesalers, refiners, exporters and importers.

Workmen are Busy Changing Opera House

Workmen started this morning to change the complexion of the old Monessen Opera house, a big brick structure that has adorned Schoonmaker avenue since 1904. A few weeks ago the property was purchased by the Slovak Independent Political society for a home and a contract was let to Andrew Sonafelt for remodeling it. The entire top, including the side walls down as far as the auditorium is being torn away and with improvements to the interior, it is believed the entire cost will approach $25,000. The building will be converted into a useful one for the society and the city. The auditorium will be used for entertainments and public meetings and the hall for lodges and dances.

The building has quite a history and was the pride of local theatrical enthusiasts, but it proved a financial failure. It was erected at a cost of $44,000 and was mortgaged for $22,000, a similar amount being subscribed by local people. When it was finally disposed of to satisfy the mortgage it brought a sacrifice price. The price paid by the Slovak society was $16,900. It will take several weeks to complete the exterior work and the finishing will be done thru the winter months. The Slovak Independent Political society is made up of the town's staunchest citizens and they are to be congratulated on the enterprise they are establishing.

Second Attraction

The second number of the Board of Trade entertainment course will be given Friday evening of next week when the Fine Arts Quartette will be the attraction at the High School auditorium. They will present a musical comedy sketch dealing with the life and songs of old Ireland. The sketch is replete with Irish wit and pathos and is given in Irish costume. A special arrangement of the best in Spanish music will also be a part of the program and as every member of the company is a soloist, the program becomes a recital of individual artists and a novelty program combined.

Many Hunters

Harrisburg, Nov. 4.—Pennsylvania hunters have applied for so many hunters' licenses that the state game commission has sent out thousands of additional blanks and arm tag and Seth K. Gordon estimates that by the time the requests in hand are filled between 420,000 and 425,000 licenses will have been sent to county treasurers.

Reports to Mr. Gordan's office indicate comparatively few accidents among hunters. In some sections rabbits are plentiful, but weather conditions are against real hunting. A number of non-resident hunters have been caught hunting by state game protectors without having obtained licenses.

Work Held Up

Work on the Belle Vernon bridge started last week, but was held up somewhat on account of bad weather. As long as weather is favorable the work will be pushed as rapidly as possible. E. S. Young of Belle Vernon is inspector on the work.

Suspects Under Arrest

Thomas Meyers, H. J. Payne, Fred Good, Roy Shaffer and William Junker were arrested on the South Side, Pittsburgh yesterday by state police and motorcycle police, following the holdup of a truck driver in Irwin Monday, when 14 men stole 100 cases of liquor.

State police who followed the trail of the men to Pittsburgh, said yesterday they had no direct evidence that the men arrested were implicated in the robbery, but that they would hold them until the case had been investigated.

Two other men, believed to be implicated in the holdup, were arrested late yesterday in the South Side. They gave their names as Frank Priore, aged 22, of 1710 Ferry street, and A. C. Fielding, aged 26, of 1215 Muriel street, South Side. After being questinoed at the South Thirteenth Street Police station they were taken to Central Station.

The first five men arrested and for whom writs of habeas corpus were to have been asked in hearings in Common Pleas court here today were taken to Greensburg by the state police before the court order was served.

Violinist at Donora

Paul Shirley, Viola d' Amore soloist, will give a recital in the Grand theatre, Donora, Tuesday evening, November 9th. He will appear under the auspices of the Donora Woman's Club. The recital is not for the purpose of making money but brings to Donora the best musical entertainment since Creatore's band appeared at Chautauqua.

Paul Shirley is a member of the Boston Symphony Orchestra. He has been playing to Pittsburgh audiences paying from $2.00 to $5.00 for seats. The tickets in Donora are being sold at $1.00. They are on sale at the Union Pharmacy and at the Grand Theatre box offices. There will be no reserved seats.

Confiscate Circulars

Special agents of the Department of Justice yesterday reported confiscating at the Pennsylvania Station 20,000 circulars, issued by the central committee of the Communist Party of America. The circulars, addressed to "Coal Miners of America," advocate the overthrow of the United States government "by mass action." According to the government agents the radical literature was shipped from Cleveland to be distributed in the Pittsburgh district.

Search for Murderer

Altoona, Nov. 5.—A posse is scouring the mountains in this vicinity for a supposedly demented hunter, who, it is believed, shot and instantly killed Edward Beck, a twelve year old lad, who was hunting empty shells. According to a companion of the lad, the hunter walked up to young Beck and shot him in the abdomen and then disappeared into the woods.

Systed Outlined

Three "great needs of the educational system of Pennsylvania" were outlined by Dr. Thomas E. Finegan, state superintendent of public instruction, in a talk to teachers of the Pittsburgh schools in Syria Mosque yesterday afternoon.

The first, better financial support from the national government, he emphasized as the greatest need to insure better education of the 1,775,000 boys and girls who attend the public schools of the state. Insistence upon bigger legislative appropriations and a more proportionate system of return to the state of taxes paid over to the national government was urged.

The second great need, he said, was that of more adequate compensation for instructors not only for the protection of the teachers themselves, but to secure an equalization of educational opportunities for the children. Dr. Finegan pointed out that 4,500 of the teachers in Pennsylvania were not educated beyond the elementary schools.

The third point brought out was the need for the enactment of more rigid attendance laws and stricter enforcement of the laws governing school attendance already existent. Dr Finegan recommended a law compelling all children who have reached the age of 6 years to attend school.

"If Pennsylvania should take a vacation for one year; if the industries of this great commonwealth should close for that length of time, the entire world would go bankrupt," Dr. Finegan said. "Pennsylvania has established a supremacy in and industry that can only tained through the proper of its future citizens, the mo ous asset of the state, its girls."

REPUBLICAN IN POLITICS

OUR PATRIOTIC DUTY

Now that the election is over in city, county, state and nation and the result is known and is so generally satisfactory, we are all ready to settle down to the grind of every day business affairs.

The approach to a third class city government in Monessen will bring with it an opportunity for a test of citizenship. The majority that expressed a desire for a change was so decisive that there can be no doubt but that the people are very much dissatisfied with conditions as they exist at present.

The election at which commissioners will be chosen to assume the responsibilities imposed by law is one year away and while there have been speculations as to available talent we feel that the time is too far distant to speculate as to who will be best fitted for any of the places. The responsibility imposed will be tremendous, the accountability will be still greater. Men who are going to fill the offices must be students of government; they must be willing to devote a lot of time for which the law does not even approach compensation, and they must keep in touch with cities elsewhere of similar conditions than our own. Moreover the man who aspires to one of the offices must be sure that he has no chip on his shoulder against business, industry, capital, labor or individual.

The man who uses a public office as a place to either reward or punish will hereafter have no place in the affairs of the town if the observer is able to read aright. The "solemn referendum" of Tuesday's election indicates beyond the semblance of a doubt that the people of Monessen want to unite in bringing about better conditions; they want a safe and progressive government, yet an economical government.

The extravagance that got an upper hold during the war has made public men indifferent as to waste and although improvements have ceased, taxes have mounted and debt has been piled to the tumbling point. People are taking stock today, not only in Monessen but throughout the civilized world and it behooves every person to do the utmost to restore governments to normal.

When the average taxpayer is made acquainted with the fact that the town faces a floating debt of staggering proportion and that the first commissioners of the city government will be to absorb this debt into bonds at as low a rate of interest as possible. This will mean that bonded debt for improvements the city awaits will be a matter of later consideration. The whole plan of future policy will mean deliberation and the sound application of business judgment on the part of a united people.

Let us all apply ourselves to the study of conditions elsewhere and as the time for action draws nearer, we will be better prepared to meet the emergencies that arise. This is a great city and we want and will have the best government it is possible to have.

THE SMOKE NUISANCE

Smoke and dirt that is produced by mills and railroads is looked upon as a public nuisance and is prohibited by law when it interferes with human health and happiness. Pittsburgh has been warring against the smoke nuisance for many years and has finally set up a bureau of smoke regulation and yesterday the Pennsylvania railroad company paid $2,000 in fines for violating the law enacted to protect the people.

Twenty suits were entered before a magistrate and the company paid $100 and costs in each case. There is some consolation for those who long for the day to come when the contamination of the air will be as unlawful as the contamination of our streams.

Lillian Russell registered as 48 and it wouldn't be gallant for any grayhaired theatre goer to figure back to his gallery days.

GRANDMA'S BEAU

"When I was a girl," says grandmother, "young men folks used to call on me right after the supper hour and when the clock struck nine thirty it was a gentleman's time to depart.

"I called a man a caller who didn't also welcome the presence of the rest of the family. And my old sweethearts never smoked at my house."

And granddaughter replied:

"The callers don't come until nine thirty these days, grandmother. And when the kitchen alarm rings for the first round to get up, they leave.

"My parents, too, always stay in the front room all the evening when a gentleman calls on me—but I'm never home. We spend the evening at a dance or the movies.

"And smoke—the men folks of today not only smoke their own cigarettes in the house, but they also smoke dad's cigars."

And grandmother still sighed for the return of the old days.

SHEEP INSTEAD OF MONKEY-GLANDS

In Tablet Form Gland Substance From Sheep and Cattle Combined with Iron Now Used.

It seems that when our glands are weak and run down our entire system is apt to be weak and run down, but when the glands are secreting the proper amount of "hormones" we are usually strong and healthy. The object of monkey glands which were usually transplanted by means of an operation was to replenish the supply of "hormones." And this same object seems now reached to a degree by gland extracts from healthy sheep and cattle combined with iron and other well known tonic agents, taken in tablet form, and eaten as one would eat any pill. Thus "hormones" are now within reach so that anyone can try building strength, health and endurance in this new way and to free themselves from the many handicaps of run-down and anaemic conditions.

This new tablet is being sponsored by the Glandex Company, Inc., 244 West 29th street, New York, and can be procured of any druggist under the name of Glandex Compound. So confident are the manufacturers of the merit of Glandex Compound that druggists are authorized to refund the purchase price should results be unsatisfactory after two weeks' trial.

Note: $1,000 will be paid by the Glandex Company, Inc., to anyone proving that Glandex Compound does not contain genuine dissicated gland substance (popularly known as Gland Extracts) from sheep and cattle. For sale by Craig's Drug store, 466 Donner avenue and by good druggists everywhere. It

WATCH THAT COLD!

The Lungs are Endangered until you Expel it

Head colds are not the trivial ailments many consider them. The passages in the nostrils lead down into the lungs; hence the cold is a threat of pneumonia. Influenza or catarrh also may result from neglect.

Krew-Pina, the famous household ointment, affords prompt relief in all cases of cold. It is scientifically compounded entirely of simple home remedies, including Oil of Pine and other volatile oils, in a petroleum base—absolutely harmless, but powerful in its action both through the pores of the skin and directly on the inflamed membranes by vapor contact.

Rub well in on the throat and chest, and apply in the nostrils. Draw the bed clothes up about the nose and inhale the medicinal vapors the heat of the body causes the ointment to give off. Repeat nightly until relieved.

Krew-Pina should be kept on hand for relief in cases of bronchitis, croup, piles, coughs, neuralgia, burns, cuts, bruises and many other common ailments. 30c and 60c jars with printed directions at your druggist's.

Free Sample of Krew-Pina
WILL BE SENT TO ANY ADDRESS ON REQUEST.

TAILORED SUIT WEEK

We announce this as the biggest and best thing we have done in the suit selection so far this season.

"Mr. Weather Man and Mr. and Mrs. Supply and Demand, the fundamental arbiters of merchandise and prices, have joined hands in the last six weeks to support the contention that prices must be lower."

There in brief is the secret of our plans for the phenominal dispersals of this week.

This bringing together of these extensive selections of suits, is the result of the common sense of keen business men who are "taking their loss," and taking it at exactly the right moment.

These suits represent many types, in all favored fabrics and colors.
This is quite an uncommon opportunity to purchase the best looking, most practical and stylish cloths for street wear.

Prices: $25.00, $30.00, $35.00, $50.00, $65.00 and $85.00

These prices are 25% lower than they would ordinarily be marked.

THOUGHT HIS TIME HAD COME—DISAPPOINTED

"I never was more surprised in my life than when I took the first dose of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. My stomach trouble had been of eight years' standing, sometimes so bad as to cause convulsions, followed by hemorrhage. I thought my time in this world was short, and believed it the last medicine I would ever take. It is now eight weeks since, and I am feeling better than for many years." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.

AFTER ANY ILLNESS THE BLOOD IS WEAK

If You get Well Slowly, Try Building up Your Blood

IT'S BLOOD THAT FEEDS THE BODY

Pepto-Mangan Creates Rich, Red Blood. Changes Pale Complexions to Bloom of Health.

A serious illness, even a cold that is hard to shake off, can reduce the blood to a weak, watery condition which keeps the normal strength and vigor from coming back.

This poor physical condition brings on a helpless, discouraged mental condition which rich, red blood can restore.

Pure blood should be rich in iron which Nature supplies to some extent in food. But often through faulty digestion or improper diet you don't get the needed iron, and your blood, on which your health depends, grows weaker and weaker.

Gude's Pepto-Mangan enriches the blood, increases the red blood cells and supplies the ingredients that bring a quick response in vigor, vitality and a fine color.

Physicians recommend Gude's Pepto-Mangan. When you order, be sure the word "Gude's" is on the package. Without "Gude's" it is not Pepto-Mangan. Furnished in both liquid and tablet form. For sale by all druggists.—Advt.

IDEAL SERVANTS IN MEXICO

One May Get a Descendant of the Incas and a Friend for Life, for $15 a Month.

Mexico is Utopia for American housewives, for there is no servant problem there, according to Mrs. S. C. Dunlop, wife of the chief engineer of Cia Transcontinental de Petraleo, the Mexican branch of the Standard Oil company.

"Ten years ago I could hire any servant for $2 a month," she said, "and now I have to pay only from $10 to $15. Often in my kitchen I have a descendant of the Incas making my bread, and when a Mexican Indian—who must not be confused with a peon—really attaches himself or herself to you, you have not only a servant, but a friend for life, one who really looks after your interests.

"Of course, in Mexico, as well as anywhere else, the servants stand 'on their rights.' The cook only cooks and does not wash dishes; the chambermaid will have nothing to do with the kitchen; but after all, the wages of the five or six servants do not equal those of one servant in New York.

"I hear my New York friends groaning because the food of the servants costs more than their own table. Now, if you give your Mexican Indian her tortillas (cakes) and her beans with plenty of chili, she is perfectly satisfied and scorns a more elaborate diet."

Old Schooners Become Barges.

Disposal of large numbers of old schooners, to say nothing of an oversupply of new wood ships, has been a problem for the past few years. River and canal men, meanwhile, have been facing a shortage of barges. Putting these two facts together, Eastern shipbuilders have now evolved a new form of schooner barge, made by removing the upper works and the below-deck cabins and bulkheads of the schooners. Such barges are capacious and have the advantages of speed in towing and seaworthiness for coast work, and if lost from a sea tow can make port with a jury rig. In South America as well as the United States, rebuilt schooners for barge work already are at a premium.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Italians Melt Up Small Change.

The second-hand dealers all over Italy have cornered the bronze 10 and 5 centime pieces, which they have melted down and sold as ingots for soldering at two and three times the price the pennies cost them. This has caused a great deal of annoyance, as small change is scarce, and in some of the cafes stamps have been given as change. The government has reduced the size of the new 10 and 5 centime pieces, but even that has done little good, so it has now decided to coin the new pennies out of a composition metal which cannot be used as solder if melted.

R-11 Gave Aged Woman Quick Relief After Doctors Had Failed

One-Half Bottle of The Reese Formula R-11 Accomplished in Three Days What Two Bluefield Physicians Could not do in Four Weeks. Patient Now Feeling as Young at Seventy as She Did at Twenty.

After being stricken with influenza and pneumonia closely followed by rheumatism, which confined her to bed for more than four weeks, Mrs Hanna Chandler, 225 Tank St, Bluefield, W Va feels better today than she did at twenty years of age, despite her seventy-odd years. Mrs. Chandler says, concerning her condition and the merits of The Reese Formula R-11:

"Last winter I was taken down with the 'flu' I was considerably run down at the time and this with my advanced years made me an easy victim of the malady. Pneumonia developed and for almost a week my condition was critical However, my constitution stood by me and after a while I was able to sit up But no sooner had I begun to recover from the 'flu' and pneumonia than I was almost completely paralyzed with rheumatism. Two doctors came to seen me daily for more than four weeks but I got no better I did not eat anything during those entire four weeks, except a crust of corn bread or a piece of toast occasionally. One day my daughter read of The Reese Formula R 11, and I decided to try a bottle I took just half a bottle when I was able to sit up, and after I had finished a second bottle of this wonderful remedy I felt as well, if not better, than before I was stricken I am seventy years old, but feel younger than I did at twenty, thanks to The Reese Formula R-11, which I have continued to take I have gained fifteen pounds and now eat anything—in fact, my only trouble today is getting enough to eat."

Mrs Chandler has so much confidence in The Reese Formula R-11 as a body builder that she now is giving it to her two grandchildren, six and eight years old

Thousands of similar testimonials are constantly pouring into The Reese Formula Company's offices from persons suffering from the after-effects of influenza and pneumonia, indigestion, nervousness, sleeplessness, lumbago, backache, female weakness, urinary, bladder, stomach, liver and kidney troubles This remedy can be obtained at all leading drug stores, including the Central Pharmacy, Third and Schoonmaker avenue and Spence Pharmacy, 1113 Schoonmaker avenue 1t
